Orange Avenue Widening From Adams Street to Springhill Road

Project Highlights

- Widens Orange Avenue to four lanes from Adams Street to Springhill Road.
- Increases pedestrian and bicycle access with sidewalks and a multi-use path.
- Enhances the water quality of the Southside area by treating roadway runoff.
- Enhances the aesthetics of the corridor with additional landscaping.
- Estimated Cost: $33.1 million

This project will connect Southside commercial areas and FAMU to Capital Circle via the Airport Gateway Springhill Road project. The widening also improves an important east-west route for both automobiles and bicycles. A multi-use path would run the length of the corridor, enhancing access to the St. Marks Bike Trail and the Capital Cascades Trail.
